Mr. Jenkins repudiated an honest money policy in 1877, and the people repudiated
Mr. Jenkins in 1879.

The President of the United States has appointed Thursday, the 27th day of November, as a day of Thanksgiving.

The entire Republican State ticket will be elected to-day by majorities ranging higher than those of two years ago.

The prospects for a grand Republican victory in New York are exceedingly flattering, as will be seen from our New York special telegrams.

The funeral of the late Zach Chandler will take place at Detroit on Wednesday afternoon, at two o'clock. It will be the largest funeral ever seen in Michigan.

A Washington dispatch to the Sunday Telegraph says that General Gilbert E Paine, formerly a member of Congress from the Milwaukee District, and now Commissioner of Patents, wants to resign and return to the practice of the law at which he was very successful.

The Madison Democrat, edited by the Chairman of the Democratic State Committee, should publish the "confidential circular" to-morrow, in which he said the Democrats were strong and hopeful, and the Republicans dispirited, and the ticket weak. That circular should be placed along side the election returns.

Mr. Jenkins will never condone the vote of Wisconsin to-day, and he will never condone the Democratic State Central Committee for inducing him to accept the first place on the ticket on the promise that he would be elected Governor, and could go to the Executive office to the Chief Justiceship of the Supreme Court.

The estate of Zach Chandler is valued at from one million five hundred thousand dollars to two million dollars. He owned twelve large and valuable stores in Detroit, an elegant mansion in that city, a fine residence in Washington, several valuable farms in Michigan, and hundreds of acres of pine land in that State. His only child is the wife of Hon. Eugene Hale, ex-Congressman from Maine, and one of the brightest and most promising young men in this country.

Attention has just been called to the statute chapter 5, section 58, revised statutes of 1875, which provides that when the State canvassers, (Secretary of State, State Treasurer, and Attorney General) all fail to act at the election, they are disqualified to act as a canvassing board, and the canvassing board is to be appointed by the chief justice of the supreme court. This happens to be the case this year for the first time since the organization of the State government.

The above is a dispatch from Madison to the Sunday Telegraph, and it will be perceived that the person who sent it is in error in stating that this is the first instance
since the organization of the State government (Secretary of State, State Treasurer, and Attorney General) were candidates for re-election. Everybody of ordinary intelligence knows that Secretary Doyle, State Treasurer Kuehn, and Attorney General Sloan, were re-elected in 1875.

The Hon. J. B. Cassiday and O. H Fethers, Esq., of this city, went to Monroe, last evening, where they spoke to a large Republican mass meeting. Turner Hall was crowded to its utmost capacity by an intelligent audience as ever assembled in that place. Hon. J. B. Treat presided. Mr. Cassiday spoke a little over to the discussion of the financial question, and the records of the parties in relation thereto.
There is not a brighter speaker on that question in this State than Mr. Cassiday. He also discussed briefly and with great force, the question of State Rights. Mr. Fethers followed with a speech of about one hour in length, discussing in a very masterly manner, the representation of the South in Congress how the South gets that representation, and what use it makes of it. At the mention of the name of General Grant, there was an outburst of applause which was almost deafening. The meeting was the most successful and spirited held in Monroe for a long time. Senator Treat says not only Monroe, but Green county, will give the Republican ticket a big majority, in other words, "they have the Democrats in a tight corner."

Senator Matt Carpenter says the Northern people are too intelligent and practical to allow the rebels to gain control of the general Government. They will never give up the results of the war, but will demand that the colored people of the South shall have the same freedom in voting and in acquiring property as the white people have in any Northern State.

Mr. Carpenter also thinks that it will make but little difference who the Democrats nominate in 1880, he will be beaten.
Under the two-third rule which is still in force in the Democratic National Conventions, no man can be nominated who is not in full sympathy with the Confederate policy. To elect such a man would be to turn over the Government to the rebel element of the South.

Mr. Carpenter thinks the people understand the aims and purposes of the Democracy and will not permit a candidate, who is Confederate in sentiment, to be elected.
He also thinks the early policy of President Hayes toward the South has done good, at least it has served to show that the South was in no mood to accept compromised measures, that it did not want them, and that nothing less than an absolute surrender on the part of the North would satisfy the South. He also says

THE ELECTIONS.

Special to the Gazette.
CHICAGO, Nov. 4—The weather is fine and the Republicans are sure of 5,000 majority in the county. The polls are selling one hundred to fifty in favor of the entire Republican ticket.

NEW YORK, Nov. 4—Voting began at 6 o'clock and continues to be steady. The day is fine, and the vote will be large.
Business is closed. Kelly is running well, and the Tammany vote is about equal to former years.

The Republicans claim the entire State ticket, and Cornell by $0,000, plurality.
It is a heavy favorite in the pools, betting being largely in his favor and that he will have 12,000 majority over Robinson and Kelly.

NEW YORK, Nov. 4—Reports throughout the State are more encouraging than ever for the Republican ticket. Tammany is now confident of McAdam only.

MILWAUKEE, Nov. 4—The vote in the State is counted ten per cent less than for three years. Smith's majority is estimated at from 6,000 to 10,000.

GENERAL GRANT.

The Preparations for His Reception at Galena—The City in Holiday Attire—The Programme.

GALENA, Nov. 3—This city has been putting on holiday attire to-day for the reception of General Grant on Wednesday.
Scores of patriotic and enthusiastic men and women have been engaged in decorating arches, weaving evergreens into festoons and wreaths, and in tacking up and unfurling the red, white and blue. At this late hour (10:30 p.m.) busy hands are transforming Main street into a triumphant passage-way in honor of the "Man of Destiny." Scores of private residences on both sides of the river are being decorated, and the bridges adorned with evergreens, bunting, and mottoes. The weather is clear, though somewhat bracing, and the signs are auspicious of a fair day next Wednesday. The demonstration in this city is to be an imposing one, and a fitting tribute to the greatness of our distinguished fellow-citizen, whose triumphant trip around the world is fast drawing to a close, and to be crowned with a royal welcome by his fellow-townsmen, in which all classes, irrespective of party, are eager to participate.

The following programme of exercises was arranged this morning by the committee having the matter in charge. The procession will be formed on the Market Square at 1 o'clock p.m., sharp, with the right resting on Hill street, and move from the depot, from which place, after the arrival of General Grant, will move in the following order:

Detachment of City Police.
Colors, with guards.
Martial Band.

Artillery.
Great Western Band.

Union Veterans, acting as Guard of Honor to the General.

General Grant, with the Mayor of the city.

The Hon. E. B. Washburn and the Hon. R.
H. McClellan, in a carriage.

Reception Committee in carriages.

Governor and ex-Governors of Illinois and other States, and State officers in carriages.

Members and ex-members of Congress.
Judges of the United States Courts and other United States officers, in carriages. Distinguished guests in carriages. Band.

Organized societies.

Delegations from the country.

Citizens generally.

The entire procession will be under the charge of Gen. W. R. Rowley, acting as Chief Marshal, with Capt. J. W. Luke, acting as side and Assistant Marshal. The military companies will be under the immediate charge of Assistant Marshal Gen J. C. Smith; the Union Veterans will be under the immediate charge of Maj. G. S.

Avery, an old soldier, and Lieut. George W Marfield, late of the navy, Assistant Marshal.
The organized societies will be under the immediate charge of Assistant Marshal Henry B. Chelvin and Jacob Fawcett. Delegations from the country and citizens generally will be under the charge of Capt. Robert Pool and Capt. Thomas Hagan, Assistant Marshals.

SENATOR CHANDLER.

Congressman Willets, of Michigan, the Last Person Who Saw Him Alive—Preparations for the Funeral Action of the Citizens of Detroit.

DETROIT, Nov. 3—Until to-day it had been supposed that Jesse Spalding, of Chicago, was the last to speak to living Senator Chandler. To-day, however, the Hon Edwin Willets, member of Congress from the Second Michigan District, was in town and stated to a reporter that, being in Chicago Friday night, he had been present at McCormick Hall, and had returned to the Grand Pacific, where he was stopping.
At midnight, finding an inquiry at the office that Mr. Chandler was in, he called at his room, where he was gladly welcomed by Mr. Chandler, who was surprised to see him. Mr. Chandler was sitting by the fire enjoying a cigar. He was apparently in his usual good health. He said, in explanation of a cough that was rather troublesome, that he had caught cold at Janesville.
When Mr. Willets warmly congratulated him on the speech of the evening, Mr.
Chandler was quite gratified, and spoke of the great satisfaction he had experienced at the reception accorded by the audience to his effort.

Mr. Willets undertook to induce Mr.
Chandler to take the Lake Shore route, home, so they would spend the day in company, but finding he would not reach home as early as by the Michigan Central and as he had ordered his carriage to meet him at the Central depot, he decided to adhere to his original arrangement. He then, at about twenty minutes after 12 o'clock Saturday morning, bade Mr. Chandler good by, and left the hotel for home by the Michigan Southern route.
Before the death of Mr. Chandler had been discovered he was at White Pigeon, where a dispatch brought into the car gave him the first information of the Senator's death.

At the Board of Trade this afternoon, the Hon. Philo Parsons paid a glowing tribute to the character of Senator Chandler.

At the citizens' meeting, addresses were made by Messrs. Bethune and Duffield, Colonel Larned, Charles Borchers and the Hon. George W. Moore. The meeting was very large and interesting, and included leading men of both parties.

A special session of the Common Council was held this noon, and the Merchants and Manufacturers' Exchange took action this morning. All these passed resolutions eulogistic of the integrity, patriotism, and other good qualities of Senator Chandler.

The Board of Trade adjourned until after the funeral, not meeting again until Thursday. The postoffice and other business places generally will be closed on the afternoon of the funeral.

How Grandfather Lickshingle Vindicated
Hotel-Olerks.

Cincinnati Enquirer.

"When I was your age," said Grandfather Lickshingle to a citizen who was deploring the unreliability of the newspaper;

"when I was your age I had the same fault to find with the papers. I couldn't believe a word that was in 'em. For instance, every day I read some screed about hotel-clerks stickin' up their noses at poor but respectable people who were forced to stop with them. At that time I was proprietor of the Fifth Avenue Hotel, an' was runnin' it on the European plan—if you don't see what you want ask for it, no trouble to show goods, an' that sort of thing. I didn't believe a word of what the papers writ about hotel-clerks, an' was mighty sure mine wa'n't that way. To satisfy myself, however, an' vindicate hotel-clerks everywhere, I put up a job on the newspaper persers."

A smile lit up grandfather's countenance at this stirring of memory's embers, but it quickly vanished, and he went on:

"I alias dressed in the height of fashion;
but I borrowed a suit of clothes from John Jacob Astor, an' disfigured myself as a poor but honest person from the interior.

"I had let some friends into the secret, an' they were present to see hotel-clerks vindicated an' stung' rebuked administered to a scurrilous press."

At this point grandfather chuckled audi-bly.

"When all was ready, I walked into the Fifth Avenue, carryin' an ordinary grip-sack, an' registered as John Crabbapple, from Squeedunk."

"Nice day, I said, as I ornamented the register with my stage name.

"Glad to hear it," said the clerk, as he fixed his necktie at a lookin'-glass in the office.

"What time kin I get a train to Hackensack?" I asked, for I knowned that particular clerk was strong on time-tables, and I wanted to fetch him out afore the invited guests, who were sittin' around takin' it all in. His reply knocked me clean off my pins. He said, never once takin' himself away from the lookin'- glass:

"See here, my bald-headed patriarch, you don't see no people sleepin' around on their benches with their valises between their feet, do you? You don't see no men shovin' trucks around loaded with trunks, do you? You don't observe any little girls runnin' around with apples to sell, do you? No, I reckon not! This is no depot, dear sir. It run me for a ticket agent, a baggage smasher, or a brakeman, you get left. I run a hotel, not a mere railroad."

"I was as mad as a wet hen, but I waited a spell. When he got his necktie parallel with his mustache he turned around an' asked me what I was after, an' if I would mind revin' my carpet sack from the counter and carryin' it out to the stable where it evidently belonged.

"This was rubbin' your grandfather the wrong way of the ha's, but, as I had gone into the scheme for the good of the clerks in general, I naturally thought I could stand it if they could.

"I said I would like to have a room if it was all the same to him.

"He said he would give me a room in the cellar only he was afraid I might sprout.

"Young man," said I, clarin' up, "I've money to pay my way an' sleep in the bridal chamber, an' I don't propose to take any lip from any stuck up hotel clerk."

MILTON.

On Wednesday last the golden wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Davidson, of this village, occurred, their children making the occasion a very pleasant one for "Father and Mother." Mr. Davidson was born in the town of Woburn, Middlesex county, Connecticut, in 1800, and his wife, Maria Briggs, was born in the town of Columbus, Champaign county, New York. They were married at Columbus, New York, on the twenty-ninth day of October, 1829, and came to Wisconsin in the month of June, 1846. Their living children, eight in number, all reside here except Mrs. George S. Aldred, of Oregon. Those living in this village are J. C. Davidson, J. E. Davidson, W. H. Davidson, N. Davidson, Mrs. A. A. Davidson, Mrs. Wm. Bowes, and Mrs. S. S. Obourn. A number of valuable and useful presents were received on the occasion from the children. The day will long be remembered by the participants as a very pleasant gathering, and the many friends of the bride and groom of a half century ago will then future good health and prosperity, and that they may be spared to commemorate their "diamond wedding" amid as pleasurable surroundings and under as favorable circumstances.

Swarz's steam road wagon passed through town Thursday and attracted much attention. It is a beauty and runs like a top.

Milton was largely represented at Thursday's mass meeting, and no one regretted the expenditure of time and money.

Rev. James Bailey returned from his Chippewa county trip last Wednesday.

W. E. Hampfill, in the class of '80, in Milton College, took the train last Tuesday night for Lake Benton, Minn., much to the surprise of his Milton friends who thought he had decided to remain here during the year. He has accepted a position in the mercantile establishment of Brown & Morse, of Lake Benton, at a good salary, this being the house with which he was formerly connected. The many friends of Mr. Hampfill regret his departure, but wish him future health and prosperity in his new home. He will return next June and graduate with his class.

Wm. Bowes moved his family and household effects to Emerald Grove last week. Our loss is their gain.

Buckwheat sold in this market last week at eighty cents. The crop is a light one and there was but little in this locality. Clover seed was delivered here last week at $5 per bushel, Chicago price at time of delivery, and timothy at $2.25 per bushel.

A Lee's little boy, who has been living in South Carolina for three years past, arrived in town last week. He made the journey from the South in charge of persons coming North to New York, thence to Chicago in company with a lady and from there came in charge of the conductor. Very few youngsters of his age make as lengthy a journey in charge of strangers.

H. B. Ward and B. J. Curtis, were on the prohibition stump last week as representative Milton prohibitionists.

M. E. Davis was in town last week being obliged to take a vacation from his duties as a conductor on the Northern Division of the St. Paul road owing to an attack of rheumatism.

W. B. Brown has moved his family in town, occupying the Burdick house north of the cemetery.

The first snow of the season floated down last Friday morning and the air had a Manitoban edge to it.

The Seventh Day Baptist social will hold a regular session this (Tuesday) evening at the house of Ezra Crandall, in addition to the regular order of business there will be a discussion of the following question:

"Resolved, That slavery is worse than death." The chief disputants will be Rev. E. M. Dunn, affirmative, and Miss Jennie C. Bond, negative. An interesting and enjoyable evening is anticipated, and all are invited.

The following is an official statement of the business done at this station during the month of October:

Charge on freight received $ 325.50
Charges on freight forwarded 132.13
Marine sales 26.45

Total $ 360.17

This is the best showing that the station has made during any one month since 1861 and is an evidence of the fact that the war has reached Milton.

Ezra Crandall sold a five year old cow to R. Smith last week that weighed 1,510 pounds. We call that a good one.

Only eight degrees above zero last Monday morning.

Ferris and Tracy have gone into the poultry business and we see no good reasons why this market should not be a good one for poultry raisers.

—O. Craig—who ran away from the Madison Insane Asylum and came back to this town some three weeks since, was taken back to the asylum by Deputy Sheriff Davidson last Saturday morning. He was not violent, but as some one had been unwilling to furnish him with ammunition for his shot gun and he was making some threats, his friends became alarmed and entered complaint to Supervisor Rogers. He, in company with Constable Davidson, went to the house where Craig was staying for the purpose of bringing him into the depot and found him determined to prevent them from taking him to the asylum. Craig declared he would not go and grabbed his loaded gun which stood in the corner of the room. Messrs. Rogers and Davidson took the gun away from him and succeeded in getting him to the train without using any harsh measures. Deputy Sheriff Davidson had no trouble on the trip to Madison. The Madison hospital managers neither notified the authorities here of took any measures to apprehend him, while he made his escape and it seems to our citizens that it is their duty to do one thing or the other in such cases.

The total shipments of live stock from this station last week aggregated ten car loads, of which Smith & Co. shipped six, Davidson Bros' two, and Williams & Borden two, the latter firm holding over two car loads in the yards for shipment this week. The hog market in the early part of the week was very active, and every buyer was on the road. Monday's Chicago market showed an advance, and buyers went into the country eager for swine, and paid $3.25 to $3.35 for anything that was good; $3.20 was paid for one or two lots of choice hogs. The bottom fell out of the market on Tuesday and Wednesday, and during the latter part of the week little business was done, $3.15 to $3.20 being the best figures obtainable. Shipments of grain included four car loads of barley, Anderson shipping three, and Klein, of Jefferson, one.

C. H. Greenman was in town this week. He sold his place at Wauwatosa, and has rented the fruit and dairy farm of V. Lowe, at Palmyra, for the coming year.

The weather last Sunday was an eye opener to those who have been predicting a warm November.

The word "boom."

The power of the press has never been more beautifully illustrated than in the recent history of the word "boom." It was always a good sonorous word, but its latent possibilities have only recently been discovered, as applied to the booming of a cannon of rushing water, it is euphonious and expressive, but it was left for the press to develop its general adaptation to human affairs, and its special significance in a political sense. The word was first applied to the Grant movement, which, on account of its sudden, rushing character, was aptly termed a boom. The paper took it up somewhat cautiously at first, on account of its slangy aspect, but gradually the word came into favor until all the papers were talking about the Grant boom. Its use by the press made it popular, and the people adopted it. Then there came the Sherman boom, the Blaine boom, the Tilden boom, and many others. Nearly every public man had a boom, or wanted one. From politics the word passed into general use, and we had the business boom, the wheat boom, the iron boom, etc. A business man remarked yesterday, "Nearly everything has had a boom except soap, and I am looking for a soap boom every day." A year ago the word was hardly known; now it is in universal use, and one almost wonders how we ever got along without it. All this has been accomplished by a free and untrammeled press. Great as the innate capabilities of the word are, they might have lain dormant hundreds of years longer, as they had already lain dormant for years, if the press, with its mighty power of dissemination, had not taken it up, and set it booming through the land. Since the Ohio election, one or two Democratic papers have suggested that the word has an unpleasant sound and ought to be done away with; but it is evident this suggestion springs from base partisan motives. It is a good word and answers a great many purposes. Let it boom!

—Candidates don't show much pity, even if they are pitted against each other.
—The Circuit Court opens to-morrow. The criminal calendar is unusually large.

—To-morrow night the ladies of Trinity church present "Bolts and Bars" at Canons' hall.

—Miss Lucy Scoville of Monroe, was in the city to-day, and called upon some of her friends.

—It takes a good deal of pluck, and thick underclothes, to stand around the polls all day.

—Kate Green is in jail again for sixty days, being sent from Evansville because she was bad.

—Dr. Beebe, the artist and occultist, will be in the Myers House to-morrow, from 12 until 5 o'clock p.m.

—Mr. A. H. Sheldon, of Madison, spent Sunday in this city, voted to-day, and returned that afternoon.

—Al Kavalege, the speedy short-hand scribe, is on hand ready to commence work in the Court to-morrow.

—Passengers on the Milwaukee train last evening report that a car loaded with baled hay, caught fire at Palmyra, and burned up on the track.

—Mr. Crossman who was so badly injured by being caught in a tumbling rod, still remains in about the same condition as for some weeks past.

—The Catholic Fair closed last night with a dance at Cannon's hall. All had a good time and the finish was as much of a success as the other features of the Fair.

—The installation of officers of the Jansville Council of the Temple of Honor took place last evening. James Clark and A. W. Baldwin are the delegates chosen to the Grand Council.

—Great preparations are being made for the dance to be given by the Hook & Ladder Company at Cannon's hall on Thanksgiving eve. Smith & Tuckwood's band are to give the music, and a merry time is to be the result of the gathering.

—The calendar for the November term of Court which opens to-morrow, has sixty-three civil suits and thirty-seven criminal actions. The cases of Christensen and Fogarty are among those set for trial. The cases against Van Epps and Hyatt, and James Snell, are also on the calendar.

—One of the stores under the Myers' house block has been engaged for the purpose of holding an assignee's auction sale of jewelry from the stock of T. D. Bowen, of Chicago. The license required for this sale is the first taken out in this city, it costing $100 and two per cent of the sales.

—The Chicago and Northwestern railroad will sell excursion tickets to Chicago and return, on the 10th, 11th, and 12th of this month, go to return on or before the 17th. Price for the round trip $4.00. Those who want to attend the Grant reception can do so at a moderate expense with these rates. The time also covers the big show of stock which will also be given in Chicago.

—The Mutual Improvement Club held an interesting session last evening. It opened with an informal discussion of Sidney Smith, and his peculiar wit. The balance of the evening was devoted to a further study of "The Merchant of Venice." Miss Abby Lubby gave a study of the sources of the play. Miss Hatherell treated the language of the play. Mrs. Godden gave an insight into the mystery which was interwoven therein, and Capt. C. W. Baker presented the wit and humor contained therein.

THE WEATHER.

REPORTED BY PRENTICE & EVENSON, DRUGGISTS,
The thermometer at 6 o'clock last evening stood at 22 degrees above; at 1 o'clock a.m., to 8 degrees above; at 7 o'clock a.m., at 6 degrees above, and at 1 o'clock p.m., at 32 degrees above. Clear.

The indications are for the upper lake regions, clear or fair weather, southerly to southwest winds, falling barometer and slowly rising temperature.

—"Collins' Cherry Cough Cure" is hot.

BUSY WITH BALLOTS.

The election to-day is off very quietly here. There is no excitement, and at the polling places are seen but few except the members of the Board and the ticket peddlers. The voters come up, deposit their ballots, and walk away with little or no talk. The vote has been a very light one indeed, and there seems to be very little scratching, both sides voting straight, as far as they are voting at all.

In the First ward at 2:30 o'clock there had been 260 votes cast.

In the Second ward at 2:45 o'clock there had been 216 votes poll'd.

The Third ward at 2:45 o'clock had polled 169 votes.

The Fourth ward at 2:30 o'clock had polled 197 votes.

The Fifth ward at 1:30 o'clock had only polled 59 votes.

By this it will be seen that the voting has been very light. This afternoon the carriages are out and those who have been "waiting for the wagon" are coming in, and other voters are more plenty. While the result cannot be told till the votes are counted, yet everything indicates that the Republicans will carry their usual proportional majority, and probably more than usual.

At Milton at 1 o'clock this afternoon there had been 160 votes cast. There was some scratching being done on account of local differences of opinion, but everything had a sure look for a strong Republican majority.

In Harmony the voting was light up to 2 o'clock. At that hour there were but 51 votes cast.

RESOLUTIONS OF RESPECT.

A Tribute to the Memory of the Late Zachariah Chandler.

At a meeting of a large number of the leading Republicans of this city last evening at which Cyrus Miner was Chairman and S. B. Smith Secretary, the following preamble and resolutions were introduced by Dr. Palmer, and were passed with a unanimity which indicated the deep sorrow of those present; who with thousands of their fellow-citizens of Wisconsin listened, only thirty-six hours before his death, to the eloquent words, and patriotic sentiments of the late Zachariah Chandler.

The Republicans of Janesville holding in the highest esteem, the late Hon. Zachariah Chandler, for his ability and services as a statesman, for his manly bearing and moral courage as a citizen, for his successful public life, his unwavering patriotism, and his great labor in behalf of human liberty and a good government, deem it their duty to publicly express their sorrow at his sudden and untimely death, and therefore, resolve.

First, that the death of the Hon. Zachariah Chandler is a National loss and a bereavement that extends as wide as the States and Territories of the Union.

Second, that as a public officer he was vigilant and honest, and that during his Senatorial career of more than eighteen years he performed services in behalf of his country which entitle him to the thanks and the gratitude of the Nation, and which place him in the front rank of patriots' heroes, and statesmen of the Republic.

Third, that his public life was measured by his views of public necessity; that he never shrank from responsibility when duty and the cause of liberty called him to act; that he was never overawed by those who arrogantly defended the Slave Power; that no want of corruption rests upon his garments; and that as between the Government and the people he was never satisfied with anything less than absolute justice.

Fourth, that these resolutions, adopted as a tribute to the memory of an incorruptible public official and a good man, be forwarded to the family of the great statesman, whose untimely death we deeply deplore.

MUSCLE VS. SPACE.

The six day walk of J. H. Jeffrey does not draw yet a very large crowd, but the interest is steadily increasing as the time goes by, and he still clings to the track. He has, about recovered from the lameness caused by his catching cold yesterday, and is making up the time that he lost, and doing some good work. He walks or runs as suits him best, and leaves the track at his own option, but still keeps in mind his self-imposed stint of making as many miles as possible in six days.

Going onto the track at 12:05 yesterday morning he finished his fiftieth mile at 4:45 yesterday afternoon, and at 10:30 this morning has accomplished eighty miles. His time was not fast, he having made his best record thus far on his first five miles.

At three o'clock this afternoon Jeffrey had made ninety miles, and was in better condition than at any time since the beginning of his walk.

MR. HENRY LEAR, Patriot, Ohio, had such pain in his shoulder that he could not move. ST. JACOB'S OIL cured him after a few applications.

STOP THE PINAFORE.

We give the following as one of Peck's Sunbeams, which will be of interest to our readers:

The sympathies of the press of the State will go out spontaneously toward the truly good General Blanting, of the Darlington Republicans. He had raised a boy up and given him all the advantages that any boy could have. He was educated at great expense, and the fond father looked forward to the time when he would be a great help to him in his declining years. Where is that boy to-day? He is singing in an amateur "Pinafore" company, at Janesville, and the strict father goes mechanically about his editorial labor, his form bowed, his eye dimmed with a tear, and his heart sad. William, you take the advice of an old cripple, whose arm's black and blue from shooting live darts of powder, a light shot gun. You drop that Pinafore like a hot potato, roll up your sleeves and go to a case and set type till you are called to a higher station. Pinafore! The devil!

ANOTHER SERIOUS DISASTER PREVENTED.

I am using Harris & Smith's Self-Extinguishing Safety Lamp, and can testify to its great merit. Having accidentally upset one which I was using, it fell to the floor. It was lighted, and was full of kerosene, but as it at once extinguished itself, the oil did not get on fire, therefore preventing any damage. Had it been an ordinary lamp, I might not now be alive and well.

I recommend the new safety lamp to all who wish safety from this great source of danger to life and property.

Mrs. H. E. DUNHAM.

The South Call for a Southerner in 1880.

From the Charleston News and Courier (Dom.)

One is lost to the Democracy, but this will not prevent the election of a Democratic President in 1880, if the party abandons the attempt to fly in the face of the logic of events. No Western candidate can be elected. The Democratic candidate must come from the East, and if he is to have the faintest chance of election he must not be Samuel J. Tilden. General Hancock is an ornament to the army, and as the outlook is for him, he is better than in civil life.

Last comes Senator Bayard, of Delaware.

He will bring out every Democratic vote in every Southern State, because he is magnanimous, upright, courageous and true. In the North he can carry every State that any other Democrat can carry, and he can win votes that no other Democrat in the East can reach.

With him as a candidate, New York, New Jersey and Connecticut are safe, and the election is assured.
